

Charity is its own reward. There are few feelings more gratifying than the knowledge that one is helping a good cause. And it is a Boston tradition. Harriet Hemenway, appalled at the use of wild bird plumage for fashion rallied her friends to create the Massachusetts Audubon Society in 1896, at the very address now housing Hale House. Years later other Boston philanthropists built upon her legacy of social conscience to purchase 273

Clarendon Street in 1973 for the benefit of low-income seniors. We are delighted to further build upon both legacies. We have converted a neglected side yard into a verdant garden designed to be a sanctuary for birds, Hale House residents and anyone else in need of a place to rest and enjoy an oasis of calm in the Back Bay. The garden is complimented by traditional red bricks. The bricks may be inscribed by anyone looking to offer a meaningful memorial to a loved one, to publicly show pride in Boston's tradition of history and social activism, or to simply add to the spirit of community on display in Harriet's Hideaway.

Each brick can be engraved with up to 16 characters and two lines of text. The lettering is 5/8" with 1/4" spacing.

Hale House and Barnard Services appreciate any donation that helps to provide the quality of care and services that we offer to the individuals living at Hale House and the citizens of the Boston community.
